QUOITS.

SINGULAR MATCH.—On Saturday a singular game at quoits was played at the Victoria Race Grounds, Leeds, by W. McGregor, of South Shields, for a wager of £30 to £20 that he could not play fifty rings, with quoits 8½ in. diameter, 18 yds distance, in 45 min. on clay-sticking ends. There was very little betting on the event, but the bet was before the rings were thrown. McGregor had the task in his own style, and played one ring more than the stipulated number. CHILD AND HILL.—The match, for £20 a side, between J. Child, of Horsforth, near Leeds, and W. Hill, of Bradford, which was fixed to be played at Lockwood Park, Bradford, near Huddersfield, was postponed, and the two players were allowed to play there, at St. George's Race Grounds, Huddersfield. The alteration of place caused many not to attend. There was a large amount of money bet on the event, Hill being the favourite at 2 to 1, with few takers. Child obtained four rings, Hill two, and the rest of the field had nothing. Hill had obtained eight. Child then got five double and six single ends, without Hill getting a single chalk, and when Child had got forty-one up, Hill had only obtained sixteen chalks.

SWIMMING.

NEWCASTLE.

On Saturday last an interesting swimming match, for £5 a side, was decided on the Tyne, between Hanford and Boddy, both of Gateshead, distance 80 yards. It will be admitted that with innumerable the merits of the victor as a swimmer, inasmuch as the ground—or rather the water—was to be traversed was so trifling that no decided opinion could be formed of the winner's capabilities. The contest, taken all in all, was exceedingly spirited, and throughout there were the greatest doubts as to the issue. Hanford had been the first to start, and had swum the river fully two yards in advance. This advantage Boddy was never able to decrease, and after an exciting piece of contention the competitors reached the terminus in pretty nearly the same position as at the start. We understand there is a likelihood of another match being run off.

It is not our province to meddle with match-making enthusiasts, but we cannot refrain from expressing our own qualified adherence of the absurd manner in which a party of sportsmen endeavour to ratify an agreement. They ought to be cognisant that it is their duty to treat for matches in a friendly way, and not to consider it essentially necessary to have an audience of spectators to witness the introduction of what is unquestionably more fitted to attaches of the P. R.

Mr. W. WALKER, of London, the justly sensational swimmer, who has been mainly instrumental in introducing the beautiful science of natation into the world, has announced that his second match, to take place at the Northumberland Hotel, Newcastle, on Wednesday evening the 28th inst., when Mr. E. B. Mather, of Manchester, the Champion of England (at present associated with F. E. Beckwith, of London, for £200), has kindly consented to be his antagonist. The match will be for £100, and the entertainment altogether is under favourable auspices, and when we mention that R. Chambers, H. Clasper, H. Winslow, and several other equally celebrated swimmers, will take part in the proceedings, it is a sure guarantee that the match will be a success. The programme of the evening's amusements is one of the most excellent description, and we can confidently assert of the most enticing.

The entertainment will under the management of Mr. Walker and Mr. Williams, who, as on previous occasions, will be in full charge of the public.

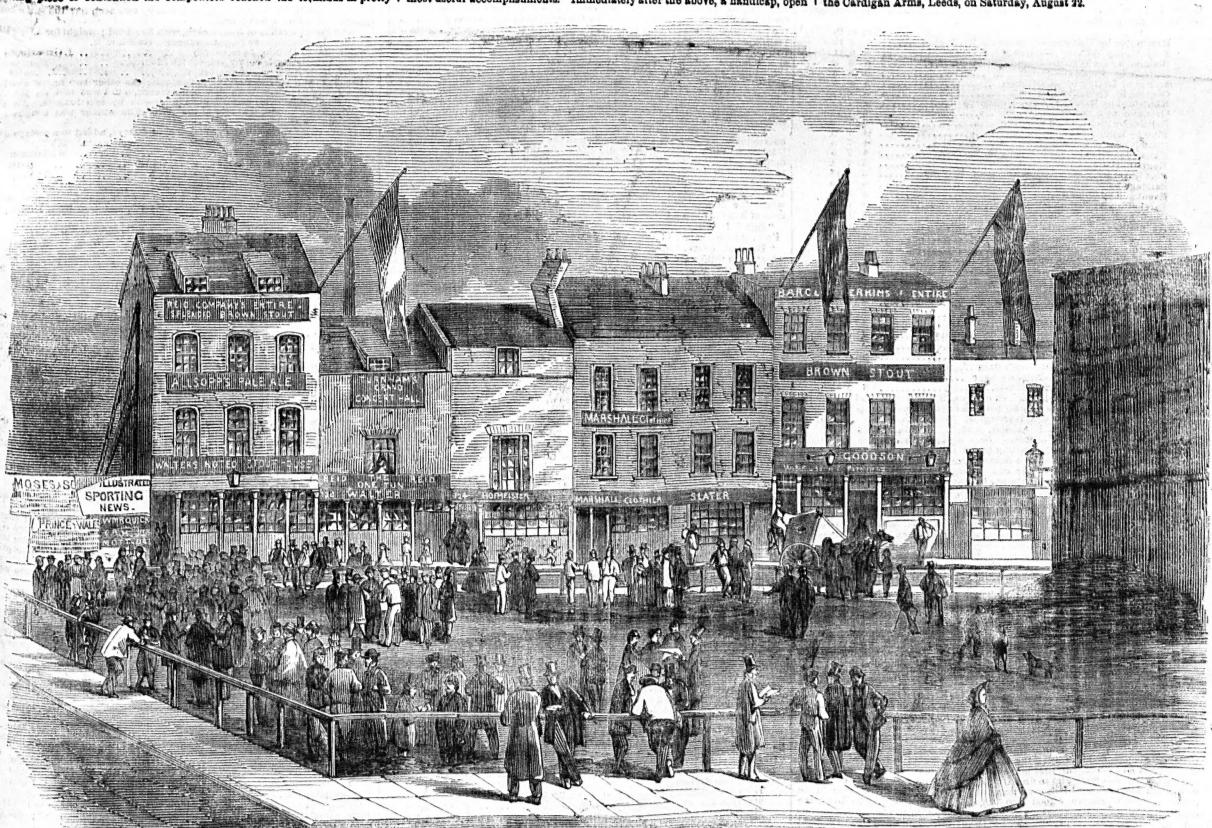

The following is a summary of the amusements, which, although rather too numerous, will nevertheless be decided in accordance with the programme:—A steeplechase, three lengths of the baths, for a Leander silver medal, will be run, and decided, on the 28th inst., except the sweepstakes of the last steeplechase. A handicap for a gold medal, given by Mr. James H. Baird, open to members of the Newcastle and South Shields Club; the distance to be four lengths of the bath. This is the most valuable prize, and the competitor will receive the same description. After this important feature has been decided, a gold prize, open to members only, will be given to be swum for with clothes on, not to weigh less than 6 lb.; distance two lengths of the bath. This novel introduction will materially enable such swimmers to appreciate the value of one of the most useful accomplishments. Immediately after the above, a handicap, open to third-class members only, distance three lengths of the baths, for a Leander silver medal, given by the Newcastle Swimming Club, will come off. This is a very commendable gift, inasmuch as it will stimulate those who have no money to bet on the match to take an interest in the sport. After the termination of this contest, Mr. Mather, of Manchester, will engage in a friendly match with a celebrated professor at present in the north, Mr. Beckwith, who will have the honour of exhibiting the beautiful Champion Cup which he won in his last match at the Strand, Mr. Walker will, with the assistance of his school, amuse the natives with his feats of natation. We have had occasion to comment on the marvellous performance of this talented instructor, and, to those who have not witnessed this gentleman's skill, we can with perfect confidence advise not to miss the opportunity. The whole proceedings will wind up with a highly amusing and ludicrous rowing match in tubs, for a prize, by three well-known rowers.

RABBIT COURSING.

MACCLESFIELD.—G. Crowder, of Macclesfield, will match his barred bitch Nell, that has never run for a shilling, against T. Heaton's Bet, of Burslem, or H. Hall's Lass, of Longton, or Macarthy's barred bitch, of Stockport, at 20lb weight, the sum of two sovereigns, to be given to the winner, to be run at the Bull's Head, Goror, or will take one dead rabbit of W. Ellis' Poly, of Idle, at the same weight, and either give or take reasonable expenses to run at the Cardigan Arms, Leeds, or at Macclesfield. If a deposit be sent to J. Golding, of the Exchange, or to Mr. Green, of the Union Inn, Macclesfield, a match can be made. To run in three weeks from the first deposit.

ELIAS AND LILL.—Mr. Woolfoot, Haworth Arms, Leeds, has resolved another £5 a side for a rabbit-coursing match, to run the best of twenty-one courses, for £25 a side, between Ralph Marshall's bitch Flora, of Gildersome, and J. Sunderland's bitch Lill, of Woodhouse, Flora to have a dead rabbit allowed, and not to exceed 15lb, Lill not to exceed 16lb. To run at the Cardigan Arms, Leeds, on Saturday, August 22.

THE TURF.

THE GOODWOOD MEETING.

There can be no question that the Goodwood races are not near so successful as those held in the days of the Napoleon of the Turf, but, for all that, the number of entries and the money won, from the number of two-year-olds, handicaps, and cups, prove very well that the meeting is a success. The betting upon the various events is extremely limited, and we begin seriously to doubt whether the Goodwood Stakes may not turn out to be a comparative failure. The number of entries is small, and, as far as we can see, there is an occasional trifling about this outside of the first four, for although money appears to be almost entirely confined to Anfield, Blundin, Bellamy, and Zapateado. Two or three weeks back we fully discussed the merits of the various meetings, and, as far as we recollect, the first Anfield, Blundin, Bellamy, Canzoneto, and Zapateado, as the best, and the last as the worst. If our readers have followed up that advice, they have had cause to regret the cubay, for the three first-mentioned animals are at the present time the quietest, and, though the remaining trio are at present rather out of the list, the last two, or rather the weather, there is yet time for a demonstration to be made in that respect. The long drought has been bad against the preparation of such a strong field, and, as far as we can see, has not only been partially stopped in his later place—the latest racing district in the world—he has been put under the care of a skilful and hard-trialing Warrender. As far as Canzoneto, we confess we are at a loss, and, as far as Zapateado, we are equally so. We believe he has to be a good filly, or the Norhampton may not be won, and, as far as the last, we are equally so. Indirectly, from what we have seen, what is the movement, directly or indirectly, from what we have seen, what is the movement, directly or indirectly, for the race stands thus:

PEDESTRIANISM.

METROPOLITAN RACE GROUNDS, HOLLOWAY HEAD.—Whether for sport or for a "good turn," Hackney Wick is the locus. It matters nothing who is to be benefited, and the visitors are sure to have their "pint of beer," and such was the fact on Monday. William Price, the noble, put forth his best efforts, but could do no good; for, George Oughouse's sake, and right well did he perform. The men were well, and their friends who were present, and although not so jubilant as could be wished, all present were satisfied. The following were the events decided:

THE METROPOLITAN RACE.—The first race, 100 yds start, cut down Gooch Hauant from scratch, and Mr. W. Hall, first; J. Sullivan, second; Bailey, third. The third heat was 40 yds start, and the first runner, C. Crow, came in front by a yard; the second, the swarthy Nightingale third.

THE VETERAN HANDICAP.—This was a treat indeed, for men contended whose names are "mention sufficient" of their doing in by-gone days. The distance was 80 yds, quite sufficient for the amateur, but good, joyful, and cheering, feeling they ennobled the race to its content. Among the names all special mention was rife, and it was refreshing, even to the referee, to see the good genial feeling displayed. From first to last this affair was worth seeing. A. J. Fenton, 20 yds start, in first in the first heat, Bill H. Read running him to a bare foot, and had the best of it; but the second, for Mr. Fenton, was "nowhere."

The renowned Jesse Smith, in his usual starting, knocked off the three yards from Old Spencer, but failed in getting third place, as Joseph came again to the post, and by a yard. The second was a "sensation" heat, a long, long, long greeting. Mr. William Price, appearing in his once-famed Harry Read went to it with a right good will, but Jenny "Tisne," with ten years of racing, had a yard and a half, first; and Bill Price, 40 yds start, a foot and a half before H. A. Read, when the latter had to "go west" and "loured." The third heat fell to C. Barrett, 6 yds start; Old Spott, second; and Jenny Scholefield, 2, third. Spott was backed for the handicap, and the referee, in his judgment, gave him a start. Barrett came in front before Jenny Mayne by a foot; but Barrett's "pedigree" was objected to, and the referee, in his judgment, discredited of his "birth, parentage, and education."

The signature is in abeyance.

THE THREE MILES HANDICAP.—For this lotus started, but it is only necessary to say that the bounding Brundell, 220, came in first; Rose, 500, with no chance for the lead; and H. H. Mayne, 200, running second. This was ran off, and Mayne was the winner. In the "decided" Barrett came in front before Jenny Mayne by a foot; but Barrett's "pedigree" was objected to, and the referee, in his judgment, discredited of his "birth, parentage, and education."

There was sparing, and all the rest of the sports for which Hackney Wick, as well known and the merry dance, music's soft measure, conviviality and good feeling reigned supreme.

PRINCE OF WALES GROUND, BOW.

On Saturday there was a good day's sport, the principal events decided being as under:

TODMAN AND HOWBURY.—120 yds the distance and 220 the stakes. Within a few seconds of the quarter of an hour were wasted before they got off. Todman, after losing his opponent one yard's start, The best way to judge of the start is to say that one who gave one yard was defeated, Howbury coming in first by two yards.

DAVEN AND SEAL.—A walk of three miles for £5 a side. Seal allowed 100 yds start. At two miles and a half Dunn had caught and passed his man, and was within a dozen yards in a minute, with ease and quiet.

DARBY AND DARBY.—This was a race for £100, and Darby completely settling his opponent in the last mile, for he won as he liked.

DAVIS AND WESTON.—Once round the course about 600 yds, for £5 a side. The race between these men ended in Davis winning, the latter having 10 yds start.

INNER AND OWENS.—These men decided their quarter of a mile race on Monday, for £5 a side; the respected M. C., James Pudney, acting as the referee. Some who were not dubious, went in a minute with ease and quiet.

DAVY AND DAVY.—This was a race for £100, and Darby completely settling his opponent in the last mile, for he won as he liked.

DAVIS AND WESTON.—Once round the course about 600 yds, for £5 a side. The race between these men ended in Davis winning, the latter having 10 yds start.

COPENHAGEN GROUNDS, GARRATT-LANE, WANDSWORTH.—Burke and Walker, both of Wandsworth, met at the above place on Saturday, to decide their race of 100 yds, for £5 a side. Mr. Grumble being appointed referee, the men took the start and waited until they got off, and a good race ensued for 100 yds, when Burton went to the fore, was however overtaken and won in an easy winner.

After the race, Blundell, of Southwark, and Stanley, of Lambeth, agreed to run their race of 100 yds, for £5 a side, with G. H. B. B. Mr. Pickworth was chosen referee. The men agreed to start by a pull of the handkerchief. Blundell got away first by a yard and a half, and ran in a winner of a good race by a foot.
